APA Style Sixth Edition Resources

The APA citation style (6th Edition) is a parenthetical author-date style, so you need to put the author's last name and the publishing date into parentheses wherever another source is used in the narrative. The APA format consists of in-text citations and a reference list, along with guidelines for formatting the paper itself.

The sixth edition provides explicit rules for direct quotations and states that you must credit the source when "paraphrasing, quoting an author directly, or describing an idea that influenced your work" (p. 170). If the quotation is less than 40 words, incorporate the quotation into the text and place quotation marks round the quotation.

APA Changes 6th Edition // Purdue Writing Lab

The 6th edition of the APA manual requires you to include the publisher's location when you cite from a print book. The city and state should be included for US-based publishers, the city and country for publishers anywhere else. If you are following the 7th edition, just write the name of the publisher – no location information is required.
