Memorandums, or memos, are quite similar to email messages. Memos, like emails, also contain a "To" and "From," a meaningful subject line, and states the reason for the communication immediately in the message. Memos also require strong organization in the body of the message for readability, and a call for action at the end.

Memos | Business Communication Skills for Managers

Memos. A memo (or memorandum, meaning "reminder") is normally used for communicating policies, procedures, or related official business within an organization. It is often written from a one-to-all perspective (like mass communication), broadcasting a message to an audience, rather than a one-on-one, interpersonal communication.
