Education Philosophy According to Princeton University, when associated with education as a discipline, “an educational philosophy is a normative theory of education that unifies pedagogy, curriculum, learning theory, and the purpose of education and is grounded in specific metaphysical, epistemological, and axiological assumptions.”

Differences Between Philosophy and Theory in Education

An educational philosophy refers to a teacher's vision of the grander purpose of education and its role in society. Educational philosophy questions involve such issues as a teacher's vision of their role as a teacher, their view of how students learn best, and their basic goals for their students. An educational philosophy should guide a teacher's discussions in job interviews, and it should be communicated to students and their parents.
