An Expert Witness is not an expert adviser who is normally appointed by a party to assist in the formulation and preparation of a party's claim or defence. An expert adviser does not have an overriding duty to the court but to the party instructing him. An Expert Witness will. Provide an independent expert opinion in their area of expertise on the subject matter in accordance with the instructions they are given.

What is an expert witness - The Academy of Experts

An expert witness's overriding duty is to the court – whose duty is the provision of a fair trial – rather than to either the prosecution or the defence, no matter which side called the witness or is paying them for their time.
