TextBook Marriages And Families Diversity And Change 6th ...

This award-winning text treats family diversity as the norm, while highlighting how race, class, gender, and sexuality produce varieties of familial relationships. Diversity in Families looks at families not as "building blocks of societies" but rather, as products of social forces within society. The authors undertake a critical examination of society, asking questions such as, "How do families really work?" and "Who benefits under the existing arrangements, and who does not?"

There are a number of reasons for this increased diversity, including:
 Secularisation (as religion has become less central to UK society, so people are more likely to consider alternatives to marriage and also there is a reduced stigma to divorce.); Legal changes (the legal changes mentioned in the previous section has made divorce easier, therefore leading to more family types)
