Military Justice Handbook: For Court Martial Practitioners ...

A court-martial or court martial is a military court or a trial conducted in such a court. A court-martial is empowered to determine the guilt of members of the armed forces subject to military law, and, if the defendant is found guilty, to decide upon punishment. In addition, courts-martial may be used to try prisoners of war for war crimes. The Geneva Convention requires that POWs who are on trial for war crimes be subject to the same procedures as would be the holding military's own forces. F

Court-martial - Wikipedia

The Court Martial process says that any offence against service law can be tried by the Court Martial – this includes criminal offences under the law of England and Wales. The procedure is comparable to that of the Crown Court and is presided over by a judge advocate and board of three to seven officers and warrant officers.
