Urban Remote Sensing - A section of Remote Sensing

Smart Urban Planning With Remote Sensing Techniques Urban planning covers both the development of open land sites and the renovation of developed parts of the city, in particular, data collection and analysis, prediction, design, strategic planning, economic models and social research.

Smart Urban Planning For Cities With Remote Sensing Techniques

Remote Sensing of urban environments allows a global analysis of its temporal and spatial dynamics. Our mission UrbanSens is a collective of international researchers with extensive experience in the topics of urban remote sensing analysis, and interdisciplinary applications.

All the analyses in this paper were based on the interpretation of remote sensing images, by which we analyzed not only the phenomenon of UHI but the impact factors of UHI from the regional level to the local level. The temporal and spatial variations of UHI have been concluded by the analysis of multi-temporal remote sensing images.
