The Invention Of Tradition Eric

The invention of tradition is a concept made prominent in the eponymous 1983 book edited by Eric Hobsbawm and Terence Ranger. In the Introduction, Hobsbawm argues that many "traditions" which "appear or claim to be old are often quite recent in origin and sometimes invented." They distinguish the "invention" of traditions in this sense from "starting" or "initiating" a tradition which does not then claim to be old. The phenomenon is particularly clear in the modern development of the nation and
