An important exception to my not-before-1990 rule, the 1981 collection of women's poetry of the First World War, Scars upon my heart, selected by Catherine Reilly, even today is an exceptional anthology, being solely devoted to poetry by women of the First World War. A short book and with very brief biographical notes it remains the best choice for someone interested in women's poetry of the First World War. 140 pages.
