Interest Groups and Courses. "U3A shows the value of communities of interest and learning which are not defined by age, or by past experience, but instead are defined by the experiences still to be explored". Interest groups in Trust U3A, like all U3As, are run by members for the members. Trust U3A Group Leaders are all members who have volunteered their experience, skills and time for the mutual benefit of the members in their groups.

Trust U3A U3A: Interest Groups and Courses

Arguments for Interest Groups. Interest groups increase participation by people in the democratic system. At a time when political party membership and turnout in elections have declined, interest group membership and activity provide an alternative means of political involvement. It could be argued that interest group participation is more in tune with modern society in which individual interests are more important than the loyalty to social groups that provided support to political parties.
