Anticipation Guide + Character POV To help students understand point of view (POV), you can use an anticipation guide where students write down how they feel about the statements. Then, after they read the story, they write down how a specific character feels about the same statements.

Anticipation Guide - The Teacher Toolkit

Construction of the anticipation guide should be as simple as possible for younger students. Write four to six statements about key ideas in the text; some true and some false. Include columns following each statement, which can be left blank or can be labeled Yes, or No (Maybe can also be used). NOTE: Teachers may wish to create an additional column for revisiting the guide after the material has been read.

Anticipation Guide | Classroom Strategies | Reading Rockets

Create the Anticipation Guide by constructing a series of statements about specific items or concepts in the lesson. Either display the cover or read the opening paragraph and ask the children to answer each question with either yes, no or maybe. The emphasis is not on right answers or to make correct predictions.
