5 Axis Cnc Milling Programming

Yes, you need to invest in a CAM system for simultaneous 5-axis CNC work (complex parts, such as turbines or impellers). This isn't always the case for 5-sided machining. Understanding the capabilities of the control on a 5-axis CNC machining center is critical to maximizing the benefits of 5-sided machining. There are only a handful of controls that give you the ability to program a part for 5-sided machining without a CAM system—and even fewer that make the transition easy with the use ...
