We read with schools, families and looked-after-children, adults in community spaces, people in care homes, people with physical and mental health conditions, those coping with or recovering from addiction, and people in the criminal justice system.

What We Do - The Reader

Many of the children we read with come with low confidence and may struggle with educational, behavioural, social or emotional challenges as a result of difficult early experiences. However, through Shared Reading, we see the positive impact that helping children and families to develop a strong, life-long bond with books and reading can have.
