rehabilitation nursing process applications and outcomes

rehabilitation is a special application that can be regulated as a part of care (Teasell R. 2003). Rehabilitation nursing begins with immediate preventive care in the beginning stages of accident or illness, is continued through the restorative stage of care, and involves adaptation of the whole being to a new life.

2. Rehabilitation Nursing

Application of the nursing process supports high-quality patient care and helps nurses avoid falling into the trap of a reactive and task-focused approach to care. In the stressful environment of acute health care, there is risk for gaps in situational awareness related to human factors, cognitive overload, interruptions, and distractions.
