Underfloor Air Distribution (UFAD) Resources - AirFixture

Underfloor air distribution is an air distribution strategy for providing ventilation and space conditioning in buildings as part of the design of a HVAC system. UFAD systems use an underfloor supply plenum located between the structural concrete slab and a raised floor system to supply conditioned air through floor diffusers directly into the occupied zone of the building. UFAD systems are similar to conventional overhead systems in terms of the types of equipment used at the cooling and heating
