My last book on dental photography was published in 2002. It dealt with conventional and digital techniques. When I was asked by the publisher to prepare a 2nd edition, I realized that photography had changed completely. In the professional world, the transition from conventional silver-halide photography to digital photography was not only underway but nearly completed.

For these reasons, in dental photography, a macro lens with a focal length of about 100mm has proven most useful. For digital dental photography, lenses with focal lengths of 60 or 100mm are recommended, as the crop factor must be taken into account (effective focal lengths are about 90 or 150 mm).
