By now, most nurses know about the link between evidence-based practice (EBP) and safe, high-quality patient care. Putting EBP into action, however, is another story. Implementation of EBP varies widely among healthcare staff, from novice nurses to seasoned professionals. However, educational preparation can make a difference.

How Nurses Can Implement Evidence-
Based Practice

For patient health and safety, it is essential that nurses follow evidence-based practice in nursing when it comes to giving oxygen to patients with COPD. Despite the belief by some that providing oxygen to these patients can create serious issues such as hypercarbia, acidosis or even death, the evidence-based protocol is to provide oxygen to COPD patients. This practice can help prevent hypoxia and organ failure.
