The History Of Diplomatic Immunity

The UN created the 1961 convention on diplomatic immunity set into international law customs and traditions that stretched back millennia but it did so in the context of a world that was very changed from the one which necessarily gave rise to the original customs and traditions, created in a time before the leadership of a nation was itself subject to prosecution. As governments and government officials are now liable to lawsuits, the need to protect diplomats from their once-unquestioned ...
