Companies Act 2006

A Shareholders' Resolution is a written document that describes the actions taken by the shareholders (or stockholders) of a corporation.

Resolution of Shareholders - Template - Word & PDF

A written resolution can be used to pass an ordinary or special resolution instead of having to hold a general meeting. Under the Companies Act 2006 this procedure can only be used by private limited companies, meaning that PLCs must always hold a general meeting to pass a resolution. The statutory written resolution procedure can be used even where the company's Articles of Association prohibit the use of written resolutions as per Companies Act 2006 s.300.

When can I use a Written Resolution?

At the meeting, voting commenced on the proposed ordinary resolution to appoint the new director. The company has 2,400 shares with equal voting rights, which are split between 8 shareholders in varying proportions. Only 4 shareholders were present at the meeting and voting. Two other shareholders cast votes by proxy.
