The difference between the old and new view is the assumptions and mental models held by the organization and particularly the leaders carrying out the activities. New View: Conditions, actions/behaviors, compliance violations are symptoms of operational and organizational processes and should not be thought of in isolation of their context. When an incident, violations, non-conformance is identified it is necessary to step back and think and understand the containing whole.

Comparison — Safety Solutions

“New view” advocates are distressed by the profession’s decades-old embrace of recordable incidents as the measure of performance – in many companies the only measure that counts. This over-emphasis on the numbers leads to unethical management, suppression of incidents and injuries, and over-specified and over-prescribed rules, they claim.

The "New Perspective on Paul" represents a significant shift in the field of biblical studies since the 1970s in the understanding of the writings of the Apostle Paul, due to E. P. Sanders' pioneering 1977 work Paul and Palestinian Judaism. Paul advocates justification through faith in Jesus Christ over justification through works of the Law. Under influence of the Lutheran and Reformed perspective, known as sola fide, this was traditionally understood as Paul arguing that Christians' good works
