Family Secrets: Acts of Memory and Imagination by Annette Kuhn

I've been reading Family Secrets: Acts of Memory and Imagination, a memoir by British film scholar Annette Kuhn (1995/2002). A blend of cultural criticism and cultural production that engages both the psychic and the social, the hybrid text brings together a series of autobiographical case histories that use private and public images from Kuhn's past as prompts for "memory work," which Kuhn defines as "a method and a practice of unearthing and making public untold stories" (9-10).
